Subject: Paula: "contact us" on GKM website - all emails/comments come to us

Paula,

On the website (www2.epa.gov/goldkingmine) when folks click on the "contact us" button at the top of bottom of the page, all those email questions, comments, etc. have been coming to us. When we receive those emails we are responding with the standard statement you and I talked about on Monday which directs them back to the same website they were on (as of today, we also provide the new hotline number). The website doesn't answer most of their questions yet. Do you know if HQ or JIT plans to set up a central point (other than us) to receive GKM inquiries and comments at some point? Much like the EPA Hotline is doing for calls.
